

On behalf of the members of the Village Board, our department heads and our employees I welcome you to our website. Being located in the southern most portion of Livingston County we provide direct access to the Rochester Metropolitan Area, the western edge of the Finger Lake Region and the Southern Tier through our available highway systems including Exits 4 and 5 of Interstate I-390 along with State Routes 36 and 63.

With great pride in our historical significance, our state of the art medical facilities including URM/Noyes Health, permanent and short term housing, varied culinary choices, recreational opportunities and the hospitality of our residents, we “welcome you” to visit our community.

We proudly acknowledge being the Chapter #1 of the American Red Cross, home of the founding by Clara Barton in 1881. We are hosts to numerous festivals including the week long annual Dogwood Festival in May, Winter in the Village on the first Saturday of December featuring vendors, wine walk, Fantasy of Lights with 50 decorated Christmas trees in Church Park, wagon rides, Santa’s parade and music throughout the Central Business District, “Rally in the Valley” having three days of events over Labor Day weekend, many school related entertainment and athletic contests are available for all to enjoy, including our baseball Gliders, members of the NYS Collegiate League. We are home of an historic nine-hole Brae Burn golf course, churches of varied denominations, an historic former railroad station now housing the Battle Street Brewery, the Dansville Municipal Airport which includes the Rochester Soaring Club along with our Historical Society Museum. Dansville has numerous municipal parks, the nearby Stony Brook State Park, a well populated public library, a well respected public school system and an active Central Business District.

With several civic service organizations, an active Fish and Game Club and a one screen movie theatre, our future is bright, growing and welcoming to all. Come and check us out, I am certain you will find us to be a community which is “A great place to live, work and play”.
